

Arbor Organic Technologies

Natural Organic Product List

Certified Organic Aqueous and Anhydrous Extracts

We offer an extensive line of aqueous and anhydrous extracts designated by the "RS" or "SNO" suffix. The "RS" extracts are certified organic botanicals that are extracted using water and a rice solution. These extracts are truly unique because they contain an organic compliant, alcohol-free preservative system. The "SNO" product range utilizes sunflower oil as the solvent to create anhydrous extracts.

Glycerin-Based Extracts

Each RS and SNO extract has a glycerin-based alternative that is not certified as a whole but contains organic plant matter. This way, the plant material can be denoted as organic on an ingredients listing. These extracts combine the highest-quality feedstock with the utility and reliability of glycerin.

Certified Organic Juice Powders

One of the growing areas of interest amongst organic cosmetic formulators is the use of certified organic juices. When manufacturing, we simply press the certified organic fruit that we obtain from our growers for juice and freeze dry to create freeze dried powders. By obtaining only the freshest certified organic produce to make our freeze-dried juices we are able to capture all of the benefits the fruit contains when it is first harvested.

Certified Organic Delivery Systems

Using organic phospholipids, and the latest encapsulation technologies, Arbor Organic Technologies has developed several novel delivery systems. Although enhancing the penetration of actives is the primary benefit, many of the Arbor Organic Technologies delivery systems also provide additional secondary benefits.

Certified Organic Bioferments

Biofermentation increases bioavailability by releasing compounds from the plant matrix where they are typically bound. This allows us to isolate phyto-actives to maximize the efficacy of the botanicals used in certified organic cosmetic and personal care applications.

Certified Organic Botanical Waters

Unlike deionized water which can shock the system, botanical waters contain a similar composition of minerals and elements as the water within our cells. This similar composition between botanical waters and the skin, allows the water to deliver maximum nutrients by smoothly integrating into the skin and hair. We offer several organic botanical waters which provide multifunctional benefits in a variety of applications.

Certified Organic Botanical Oils

Beauty oils, convenient and highly customizable ingredients for different skin and hair concerns, are in high demand. Organic botanical oils have a plethora of uses in formulations, commonly as emollients and moisturizing agents.
